

Mueller Non-Contact Infrared Thermometer for Fever, Body and Surface Thermometer, Memory Recall, Auto Power-Off with Backlight Indicator, Gray Review-2021

Read Customer Reviews

Multi-Functional Measuring: The contactless infrared body thermometer is mainly designed to take a forehead temperature, but it can also be used to measure the temperature of surfaces as well. When using the thermometer in Forehead measurement mode, the backlight color of the LCD display will turn green, orange, or red based on which temperature range the measurement result falls into.

Accurate And Fast: This digital infrared forehead no-touch thermometer is equipped with the latest sensitivity sensor technology to make taking temperature easy, stress-free, and incredibly accurate. Its sensor can precisely detect the infrared heat given off by the forehead (or object) and quickly display measurement in only 1 second! The Thermometer works with two AAA batteries that are included.

Non-Contact Infrared Measurement: Measurements are taken without any contact, with a distance of 1-2 inches between the thermometer and the forehead. The non-invasive way to safely and hygienically measure temperatures for adults through to infants.

9 Readings Memory Recall: This handy thermometer can memorize the last 9 readings to continuously track your family member's temperature. After 9 measurements have been stored in the memory, the oldest reading will be automatically deleted so you do not have to do it manually. It also comes with sound notifications to alert you if the temperature is high or your battery is low, or choose to mute sound if you prefer.

Superior Quality With Mueller - We are here to offer you only the best quality products designed to make your life easier. If you need any help, please feel free to contact us, our professional customer support is always here for you! Review 2021, feedback 2021, promo code, discount code 2021, buy, picture, description, sale, price comparison, cheap, cheapest, value for money.